Contests spark enthusiasm in spirit week

The creation of spirit week by the Student Council wos introduced into the Homecoming festivities this yeor. Individual contests for costumes were held eoch day in which students and teochers were ollowed to dress occording to the title of the day. Each winning person received a free ticket to the Homecoming footboll gome. The week began with "Grubbies Day" in which everyone dressed in their scrubbiest clothes. On Tuesday students dressed as the high school crowd of the 50's. Wednesdoy wos the day for any combination of closhing colors ond prints that could be created. A snake donce through town was olso held that day. Thursdoy, different assortments of purple ond gold were worn. Outfits ronged from purple leotards ond yellow slippers to the winning costumes which were dresses trimmed in gold tinsel. A bonfire wos held that night behind Hendry Pork School. Fridoy everyone dressed in their good clothes to hove their pictures token for the yearbook. Winners during the week were Tim Johnson, Melody Roush, Doug Sanders, Lori Horny, Cindy Crimmins, Stocy Fulton, ond Fritz Cripe. Later thot afternoon everyone swormed into the gymnosium to a pep session that ended spirit week with great success.

Hi-Y creates "Christmas Mansion"

The talented group "Velvet Rush" furnished the music for the December 14 Christmas Prom. The dance with the theme "Christmas Mansion" was held in the High School gym, and the Hi-Y sponsored the dance with the assistance of the Y-Teens. Lavish decorations adorned the gymnasium and surrounded the throne of the Queen and King. Senior Ray Chrysler was named king, and his date was Debbie Willibey. Junior Paul Gilbert, sophomore Bruce Golliff, and freshman Paul Golliff, were the other candidates.

A Christmas story

"A Christmas Story" was the theme for the December 18 Christmas Concert. Much individuality and uniqueness was noted in the concert as a variety of groups performed. These groups included the High School Choir, Junior High Choir, Swingals, Girls' Vocal, the Trio, and the Barbershop Quartet. The concert ended as the senior choir members presented Miss Siebold with flowers.

Clackwise starting left: Cheryl Andrews devates many lang haurs as accampanist with the chair; The High Schaal Chair creates the Christmas maad thraugh the tunes af familiar carals; Fritz Cripe, Susan Jahnsan, and Randy Dygert cambine the bass, tambaurine, and guitar far tria entertainment.

Heavy snow season fashions winter life

The first few flakes of snow braught mixed feelings ta the student body. Many could only envision the sub-zero temperatures ond slushy wolks ta school. Others, however, sow o more ideolistic picture. Winter was the beouty af freshly fallen snaw ar the thrill af o speedy snow-mabile ride. The month af December highlighted most winter octivities. Lunch haurs were filled with snowball fights and the moking of snaw men. The after-school haurs were even better. Kids enjayed sledding, snaw-mobiling, tobogganing, and skoting on frazen ponds.

Christmos undoubtedly wos the favored part af winter. Inspired students decorated the schaol holls with tinsel, paper chains, evergreen trees, ond lacker decorotians. Seniar girls adorned their locker quad with creative haliday trimmings and hung mistletoe fram the ceiling. Many students exchanged gifts ond Christmos carals were sung. The hallwoys cleared on December 21 as everyane said goad-bye ta homewark and hella ta twa weeks of needed vacatian.

Taming of the Shrew

A play written by Shakespeare, "The Taming of the Shrew," was presented by the student body this year. The play was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty, with the lead actors played by Barb Sisler and Fritz Cripe. A good response from the student body and the community was shown toward the play.

Clockwise starting abave right: Fritz Cripe, as Petruchia, attempts to tame Kate, portrayed by Barb Sisler; Gilbert Heier, Reneé Dygert, and Bruce Hull display the clathes af Shakespearean time; Matt Bradakis as Lucentio tries his hand at escorting Bianca, partrayed by Susan Jahnsan.

Around the World

"Around the World" brought a new style of entertainment to Angola High School. A wide variety of single acts and group acts were presented during the show. The ambitious cast included both students and teachers, who put in many hours of diligent practice. Refreshments served during the performances also added an interesting feature. This heightened the atmosphere of the nightclub and also brought in extra money for the Thespian Club. "Around the World" proved to be quite successful for AHS.

Clockwise starting upper left: Ronnie Hammond portrays a drunk having difficulty reading his lines; On the world cruise Joni Crimmins and Bruce Hull do a German polka; Sailor Jody Bryan serenades two dancing beauties, Mr. Scott and Mr. Butz.

"Make your own kind of music"

The annual Spring Vocal Concert was given on the evenings of May 13 and 14. Under the direction of Miss Nancy Siebold, the theme "Make Your Own Kind of Music" was presented with various selections of songs. Songs were categorized into Show Songs, Country Music, Barbershop, Classical, Folk, Sacred, Today, and Popular. In each category participants costumed themselves accordingly. Dancing, jokes, and dialogues were also given. The casual arrangement of songs and conduction attracted ample crowds both nights. The closing numbers, which were popular songs, climaxed the show as the entire Choir left the stage and scattered up the aisles while singing the cheerful tune "I Shall Sing."

Clackwise starting far left: The Chair sings the clasing sangs. The Tria sings ta the maady falk sang "Jimmy Whalen" as Fritz Cripe accampanies an the guitar. Miss Siebald happily displays her rases fram the seniar class. Debbie Willibey harmanizes in the alta sectian af the Swingals. The Barbershap Quartet, Brian Masan, Fritz Cripe, Bruce Hull, and Anthany Bal vacalize the sang "O Baby Mine." The Girls' Vacal graup perfarms a carefree style af cauntry music. The drums, played by Craig Ralstan, add extra special qualities ta the cancert. Swingals Beth Danigan and Lynne Hemrick swing ta the rhythm af "New World Caming." Rick Rigdan, Gilbert Heier, Wayne Maw, and Paul Gilbert present an unfargettable perfarmance singing "Da Lard." These musicians depict "The Instruments" in an amusing cambinatian af sang and gestures.

"Our Town" titles spring play

Thorton Wilder wrote the three act play entitled "Our Town" which was chosen for this year's spring play production. In April the students and Thespians presented the play in the high school auditorium.

The story was centered around the small town of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, and the lives of a few families from this town. In the first act a routine day in the Gibbs and Webb household is observed. In the second act a love affair and marriage takes place between George Gibbs and Emily Webb. In the last act the setting is in the town cemetery. Here, Emily, who met her fate in child birth, learns how truth can only be found in the future and not be reliving the past.

The cast of "Our Town" included:
Stage Manager — Gilbert Heier
Dr. Gibbs — Rondy Dygert
Joe Crawell — Tim Strawser
Hawie Newsome — Tony Bal
Mrs. Gibbs — Janet Nilsan
Mrs. Webb — Cindy Walters

"Stairway to Heaven" themes prom

Financed and decorated by the junior class, this year's Junior-Senior Prom, "Stairway to Heaven," was held on Saturday May 10, at the Potawatomi Inn at Pokagon State Park.

Before the dance, many couples joined to gather at various restaurants for dinner. Captain's Cabin, The Moonraker, Gracie's, and The Sunset, were just a few of the choice restaurants that couples swarmed to. When the dance floor opened at 9:00 p.m., couples danced to the tunes of "Kinderhook." Decorations were simple. Foil stars hung from the ceiling, and tables were set with candles and dance programs. In one corner of the dance floor was a decorative water fountain. At 10:00 p.m., Senior Carol Karst, was crowned queen and with her escort, Randy Wilkins, they led the dance floor with the theme dance. At 12:00 p.m. the doors closed, but many couples headed for the drive-in theater to see "American Graffitti." Prom activities continued through the night, and the next day many couples canoed, went picnicking, or headed for the dunes.

Clockwise starting left: Caral Karst is the 1975 Pram Queen. Melody Roush and Larry Willig enjay being escorted to Gracie's in Caldwater. Sue Yates ond her escort donce to the theme song, "Stairway to Heoven."

Assemblies grant student and teacher participation

The Student Council diligently organized many new programs and assemblies in which students and teachers actively participated or attended. Second semester programs included a volleyball demonstration from Kellogg College, the New Prairie Swing Choir, and the WOWO Aces basketball game, in which the Aces from Fort Wayne challenged men faculty members to a humorous ball game. The Aces defeated them only by a slight margin.

First time programs also conducted this year were Career Day and the Donkey Basketball game. Career Day took months of advanced preparation. On March 18, high school students attended various one-hour classes in the occupational field of their choice. Speakers for these classes came from community businesses and from other towns also.

On April 8, in the high school gymnasium, Student Council members challenged the faculty to a game of basketball while everyone rode donkeys. Stubborn donkeys and other casualties caused the Student Council to lose 18-22.

Student and teacher participation in these activities was the key essential to their overall success.

Clockwise starting obave: Mrs. Covell speoks to interested students abaut Beauty College during Career Day. Mr. Dygert and his dankey observe the octivities af the game fram the sidelines. Students check their schedules for Career Doy.

Students conduct 1975 graduation ceremony

Angola High School's 98th annual Graduation Exercises were held on Sunday afternoon, May 18. Angola High had a new presentation this year. For the first time, members of the graduating class conducted the Commencement ceremony.

The hot, overcrowded gymnasium was the scene for the Graduation ceremony as 179 seniors clad in burgundy caps and gowns were given their diplomas. The graduates descended from the balcony stairs and met in couples to be seated in front of their friends and relatives. An air of beauty and seriousness was observed as each girl carried a white rose, the chosen class flower. The orchestra played "I Won't Last a Day Without You." Mr. Kelley addressed the crowd and introduced the speakers. Ken Peterman presented the Invocation, Bruce Hull delivered the farewell speech, and Carol Karst gave the closing benediction. Diplomas were conferred upon the graduates by School Board member Dr. Claude Davis and Assistant Superintendent of Schools Paul Schock. Mr. Hal Vaughn announced each graduate's name.

Feelings of mixed emotions rose as Matt Bradakis told the graduating class of 1975 to turn their tassels. Being assembled for the last time, the graduates marched out of the gymnasium to share smiles and tears.

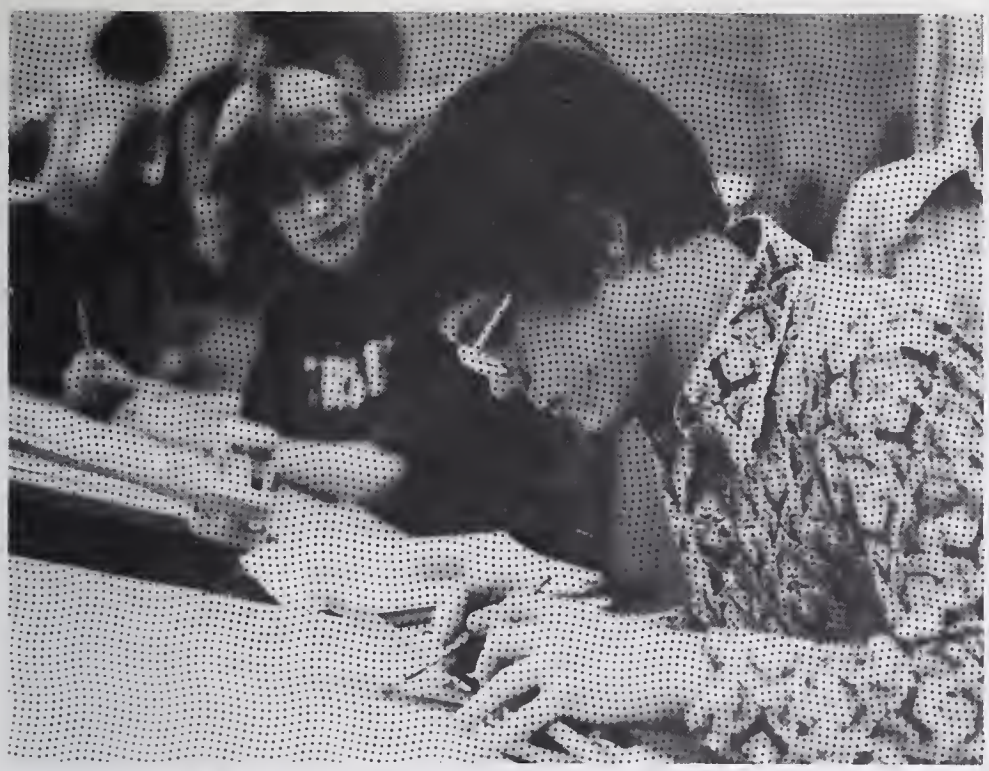

Clackwise starting far tap left: Bruce Hull, Student Bady President, stresses the importance of living as he gives his farewell speech. Larry Willig receives his diploma. David Graves, ane af the three ca-valedictarians, receives a firm handshake fram Dr. Davis. Caral Karst presents the closing benedictian. Graduated seniors turn their tassels. Three seniars are ca-valedictarians. They are Marianne Arbuckle, Debra Meyers, and David Graves (not pictured). The salutatarian is Debra Willibey. Debbie Willibey happily takes her diplama. Mr. Kelley greets the crawd and introduces the speakers. An anxiaus mament finally arrives as Ray Chrysler receives his diploma. Seniars listen patiently to the speech, Matt Bradakis, Seniar Class President, gladly tells the graduated seniars ta turn their tassels.

DESIGN

This year, as in the past, many students enrolled in the art classes that were offered. Most of the students are art majors who wish to continue in that field of study.

Again, Mrs. Deardorff and Mr. Robinson have used their talents to the fullest to help students learn at Angola High School.

A new class offered in the Art Department this year was Creative Crafts. The class, chosen by non-art majors, was enjoyed by all.

Starting clockwise: Jesse Stackhouse is making a piece of clay pottery on the potter's wheel; Mr. Robinson appears busy with his own project.

DOMESTIC SKILLS

This year the home-economics department spanned a wide variety of studies. These included grocery store trips to learn how to compare prices and choose the right cuts of meats, and working with and observing children. Other field trips planned throughout the year were to textile stores and children's stores.

The boy's home-ec or "bachelor survival" course was in its third year of existence this year. The curricula for this course included a nine-week food lab, a unit on grooming and manners, and a clothing unit where the students constructed shirts, vests, and pants. January and April the style shows were held for junior high and senior high students enrolled in clothing construction classes.

Clockwise starting obove: Rodger Mosan and Croig Myers, members of the boys home-ec closs, work corefully ot the cutting board; Scott Doyhoff ond Dove Coak prepare cookie dough for boking; Lynn Petermon serves punch during the seventh grode food closs porty for first groders.

CONSTRUCTION

The building trades course was offered at A.H.S. for the first time during the 1974-75 school year. This program gave instruction in rough and finish carpentry, plumbing, heating, masonry and concrete work, and electrification, as well as other organizational and business topics related to the successful construction and marketing of a house. The class is available to juniors and seniors and had an enrollment of 27 students including one girl, Pat Steele. Students receive six credits for the full year, as well as 540 certified clock hours of vocational experience. Two classes meet daily in three hour sessions.

Although the course is offered as a part of the regular curriculum, the actual direction of the program resides not only with the program coordinator, Clem Sniadecki, but also with school personnel and local representatives from the fields of construction, business, real estate, and finance. Board members for the 1974-75 school year were Marvin Aldrich, Judy Aldrich, Gerald Rolston, Neal Patterson, Paul Schock, Darold Sailor, Bill Selmon, and John Harvey. The house is located on Euclid Street.

Math courses offered at A.H.S. included physics, Algebra I and II, trigonometry, geometry, general math, business math, and senior math. This wide range of mathematical subjects offers courses to fit the needs of all math students.

During the month of December, the senior math students studied computers and their functions. On December 18, 19, and 20, they went to Tri-State to program computers.

COMMUNICATIONS

Utilizing the students' basic knowledge of the fundamentals of grammar, the English curriculum emphasized creative writing, reading, and the analysis of great literary works. Studies were supplemented by projects, such as the making of notebooks containing pictures and drawings of the citizens of various time periods in American Literature classes and the participation of Angola debaters in the regional competition for the first time.

Clockwise from right: Jenny Golden uses water skis as props during a required speech in Speech I; Another project of American Literature classes was the organization of an "American Culture" display in the library showcase; Cheri Knuth speed reads in Mr. Broyton's room.

UNDERSTAN-DING

Leorning o fareign languoge involves more thon memorizing wards. Understonding the people of the lond and their cultures is olso importont. Mast students ogree thot conjugotion of verbs is the hardest port of leorning o secand languoge and constont repetitian seems to be the anly woy to learn. In the language lab Sponish and French closses olso listen to dictotians and diolagues on tape. Unfartunately, these alsa include repeating numerous exercises.

But fareign longuage classes con be fun. All three language teochers use Binga games ta promote understonding of verbs ond numbers. Students in French closs taak time fram their classraam wark to visit the hame of Sylvia Jacksan, a CIA ogent wha lived in Poris, Fronce for severol yeors. She was a resident af Angola. Students in advonced French read a French play in class and then went to Bawling Green University ta see a perfarmonce of the play. The preporotion af o nine caurse meol, an onnuol event, wos corried out by the French III class. Occosianal games af boseboll or Jeapardy relieved the students af Spanish closs. The Latin classes hod several projects such as scralls and Valentines that were significant of Latin cultures.

DISCOVERY

Discavery is a majar part af science, health, and agriculture. Science caurses vary fram general and physical science thraugh bialagy, chemistry, earth science, ecalagy, and physics. Freshmen take either general science ar physical science which serves as an intraductary caurse. Students in bialagy study living arganisms and thase in chemistry class study matter and energy. Earth science deals with astranamy, zaalagy, and meteralagy. Thase taking ecalagy can expect an intensive study af the prablems af pallutian. Physics, designed far the mare advanced students, cambines mathematics and science.

Health cavers many areas. including mental health and persanality, nutritian, and first aid. The curriculum varies each year with the students' interests. Pamphlets, leaflets and magazines are used instead af textbaaks. This year's health class included a field trip ta Caak Nuclear Center.

The first year af agriculture deals mainly with animal praductian, including dairy and beef cattle, paultry, and harses. Ecanamics af farming is cavered briefly. Students in Agriculture II delve inta farm management and incame taxes, farm machinery and shap taals. Machinery safety, the study af tractar engines, and farm taxes are part af the curriculum af Agriculture III.

THE PAST

This year Mr. Sirk and Mr. Nesbitt taught United States history and came through with flying colors. Their classes discussed such things as the new president and vice-president, continued gasoline shortages, unemployment, the coal workers' strike and the high food prices.

The students of the history department enjoyed new things this year, new text books and a new teacher. The new teacher was Mr. Don Harter, who taught government, economics, and eighth grade history.

The history department also studied current events in Washington D.C. and around the world. President Ford's actions were analyzed by the government classes. A former class, Russian history, was brought back into the curriculum and was enjoyed by many.

COMMERCE

The business courses offered this year included Typing I, Typing II, office machines, general office practice, Shorthand I, personal typing, Accounting I, business math, general business, business law and recordkeeping.

This year, as in the past, the business law class led by Mr. Vaughn held a Mock Trial in December. As usual the trial was a success. Barb Stoy served as judge, and other students from the class were in the trial. The business law class visited the courthouse and lawyers' offices in Angola. The students enjoyed the tours.

Also, this year room 315 received two new electronic calculators. These new calculators were used by the general office practice and office machines classes.

The General Business class learned how to cope with inflation by having to manage their money. Budgets were discussed, with the students learning that budgets were an important part of their lives.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Mrs. Bendezu's class was very happy when they returned to school this past fall. New text books, furniture and maps adorned the newly redecorated room. As one of their activities, the class visited the Steuben Historical Society while studying a unit on history. The students thoroughly enjoyed the tour. Another activity of the class occured when the class gave a Christmas program to the parents of the students.

Mr. Tokarz's class was on a half day basis again this year. As a practical experience most of the students had a job in the community.

Young wrestlers take toll

This year the Harnet gropplers were very weak in the lower weight closses, which is usually their strang area. These closses cansisted af all first or second year wrestlers, because only twa seniors returned ta the team this year.

The Hornet gropplers' record wos faur wins and eight lasses. They taak sixth aut af nine in Conference and sixth out of twelve in Sectional.

Jim Wetzel, with o 15-5 recard, placed secand in the NEIAC and became Sectianal Champian. Fred Cavell, who ploced secand in the Sectianal, and Jim Wetzel went ta the Regional. Placing secand in the NEIAC, Bab Shipe pasted a 14-5 recard. Team captoin Rager Parker held a 12-8 recard.

The yaung team improved its knawledge of wrestling this year. Caach Siman cammented, "This was a leorning year far the wrestlers. They gained the experience they need to imprave next year."

Young reserve team has rough season

The Reserve squad consisted of seven freshmen, three sophomores, and two juniors. Even though their season record was four wins and sixteen losses, Coach Allen felt that they had improved in fundamentals and will provide leadership for the future. Mark Aldrich led the team in rebounding, scoring, field goals, and free throws. Harry Dove led the squad in hustling. The Hornets were captained by Mark Aldrich and Tom Simons.

Freshmen capture tourney

The Freshman squad defeated Columbia City and East Noble in a "come from behind victory" to capture the Freshman Basketball Tourney. The team's record was 8 wins and 9 losses. Even though the team was a bit handicapped by the advancement of more than six players to the B-Team and Varsity squads, they showed a great desire to win and a lot of determination. The team was coached by Don Harter and Larry Bassett.

Angola gymnasts swing a 7-7 season

Even after the loss of four gymnasts this year's team gave all they had and ended the season with seven wins and seven losses. Mike O'Beirne placed first on tramp and floor ex. in the sectional, followed by Ron Wenzel who placed second on tramp. Both gymnasts thus qualified for the state meet in which Mike O'Beirne placed ninth on floor ex. and tenth on tramp.

The new gymnastics coach, Bill Bollier, felt that this year's team was young and with the return of these men next year's team would surely be hard to defeat.

Young team strides toward future success

With only eight experienced men, out of thirty-six, this year's track team strived for improvement and was successful in many aspects.

Ray Chrysler was awarded MVP for achieving eleven consecutive wins in the 440 and an overall record of 11-3 in this event. Other members deserving recognition were Harry Dove, most valuable distance man; Alex Kyle, most improved; David Ryan, Decathlon champ; Craig Ralston, high point man and most valuable jumper; Jack Wetzel, most valuable weight man; and Ron Throop, most valuable sprinter.

Mr. James Scott, coach of the AHS track team, felt that the large turnout of interested athletes is an indication that the future years of track are heading in the right direction.

Baseball squad shows potential

The Baseball squad held the potential to win this year, but they lacked the over-all scoring. Coach Maugherman felt that the major downfall was in hitting and RBI's. Even though scoring was a problem, he felt that defense improved a great deal since the beginning of the season. The team tied for fifth in the conference and were led by captains Mike Peterman and Lindsay Williamson, who was chosen as Most Valuable Player.

Golf team takes 8th in conference

The golf team was coached under the new directions of Wayne Allen. Jeff Newnam was the only senior member and helped the season with several winning scores. The team traveled to the Riverbend Golf Course in Ft. Wayne where they placed 8th in the conference. As of May 27 the varsity record was 8 wins and 10 losses. The junior varsity team finished with 9 wins and 6 losses. Camera difficulties prevented the Key staff from obtaining a team picture. TEAM MEMBERS WERE — Jeff Newnam, George Porter, Mike O'Beirne, Steve O'Beirne, Brent Emerick, Tony Green, and Fred Covell. The team finished the season by placing 6th in the Invitational.

Spring season improves girls

For a second consecutive year a girls' spring tennis team was formed. Although members of the boys' tennis team joined the girls' practices and single meet, Coach Wright's main purpose was to instruct the girls. Jenny Golden and Diane Swager, who played continuously throughout the summer, shined on the courts.

The girls were only able to participate in one meet against Wawassee Prep. Diane Swager defeated her opponent 8-1. Jenny Golden played an impressive match but lost 5-8. Other scores were Debbie Wilt 5-8, Carol Karst 1-8, and Arnita Petre 0-8.

Five seniors set up girls' volleyball season

This year's AHS girls' volleyball team bumped, set, and spiked their way to their best season in three years by winning six matches and losing eight. For the first time the girls spiked and used definite plays, which proved most effective. The sectional was held at Eastside where the team bombed Hamilton in the first round 15-5, 15-10, and then lost to the eventual champion Garrett in the second. This year's starting six were lead by five seniors, team captain Betty Hancock, Luann Kaufman, Diane Swager, Susan Johnson, and Rose Shumaker. The reserve team had a good season gaining experience for another good year.

Experience leads AHS girls

The AHS girls' basketball team was deprived of a home floor for home games, because the gym was not available. The girls spent many hours of practices in gyms at Pleasant Lake and Carlin Park schools.

Despite these downfalls, the team was the best in three years. Lead by seven seniors, the Lady Hornets posted a 4 win-8 loss record. The reserve squad ended their first season with a 7 win-3 loss record. Betty Hancock, team captain, held the varsity season high game scoring record with 16 points, followed by Jenny Golden with 15 points. Mary West lead the JV's with 18 points.

The girls traveled to Dekalb this year to compete in their first tourney, losing to the host school by a score of 25-44.

Coach Doub expressed her feelings towards the team as, "I felt the season was a very good one. The seniors had been working hard for the past three years and they were ready for this to be their best year. We had a very good showing of freshmen this year which allowed us to form a reserve team. I can't stress enough how important this is going to be for the future teams. I have been extremely thrilled about the fantastic team spirit and positive attitude of this team. There were personality differences, but the team remained unified and committed to working together for the common goal of victory."

Girl gymnasts display quality

The Girls' Gymnastics team was small in size with only five girls finishing the season. Karen Rose and Susie Fee, voted the most valuable player, worked all around and led the team with an average of five points per event. Karen McKeever, the only senior, led the squad in vaulting while Jeannie Fulton displayed the needed flexibility for Floor Ex. throughout the season.

The team competed against many of the large schools in the Ft. Wayne area who had teams of 20-30 members. Even though this size difference played a major part in the total team scores, the gymnasts often finished close or better, individually, than their competitors. Coach Rowe felt, "The girls put out a lot of hard work, and the improvement over the last year was amazing."

Girls' track runs successful season

The Girls' Track team, with over twenty girls participating, finished the season with a successful eight wins and two losses. The team established numerous new records, and many of the girls broke their previous records. Cindy McKnight established new records in the 440 yard dash and running long jump; Cindy Crimmins broke her own shot put record with a throw of 31'3½"; the 440 Relay, 880 Relay and the 880 Medley all set new records. Coach Daub commented that special recognition should be given to Jean Huffman "for pulling the team through some tight spots." The track team was captained by Rose Mary Schumaker and Betty Hancock, who was selected as Most Valuable Senior.

Junior High has outstanding year

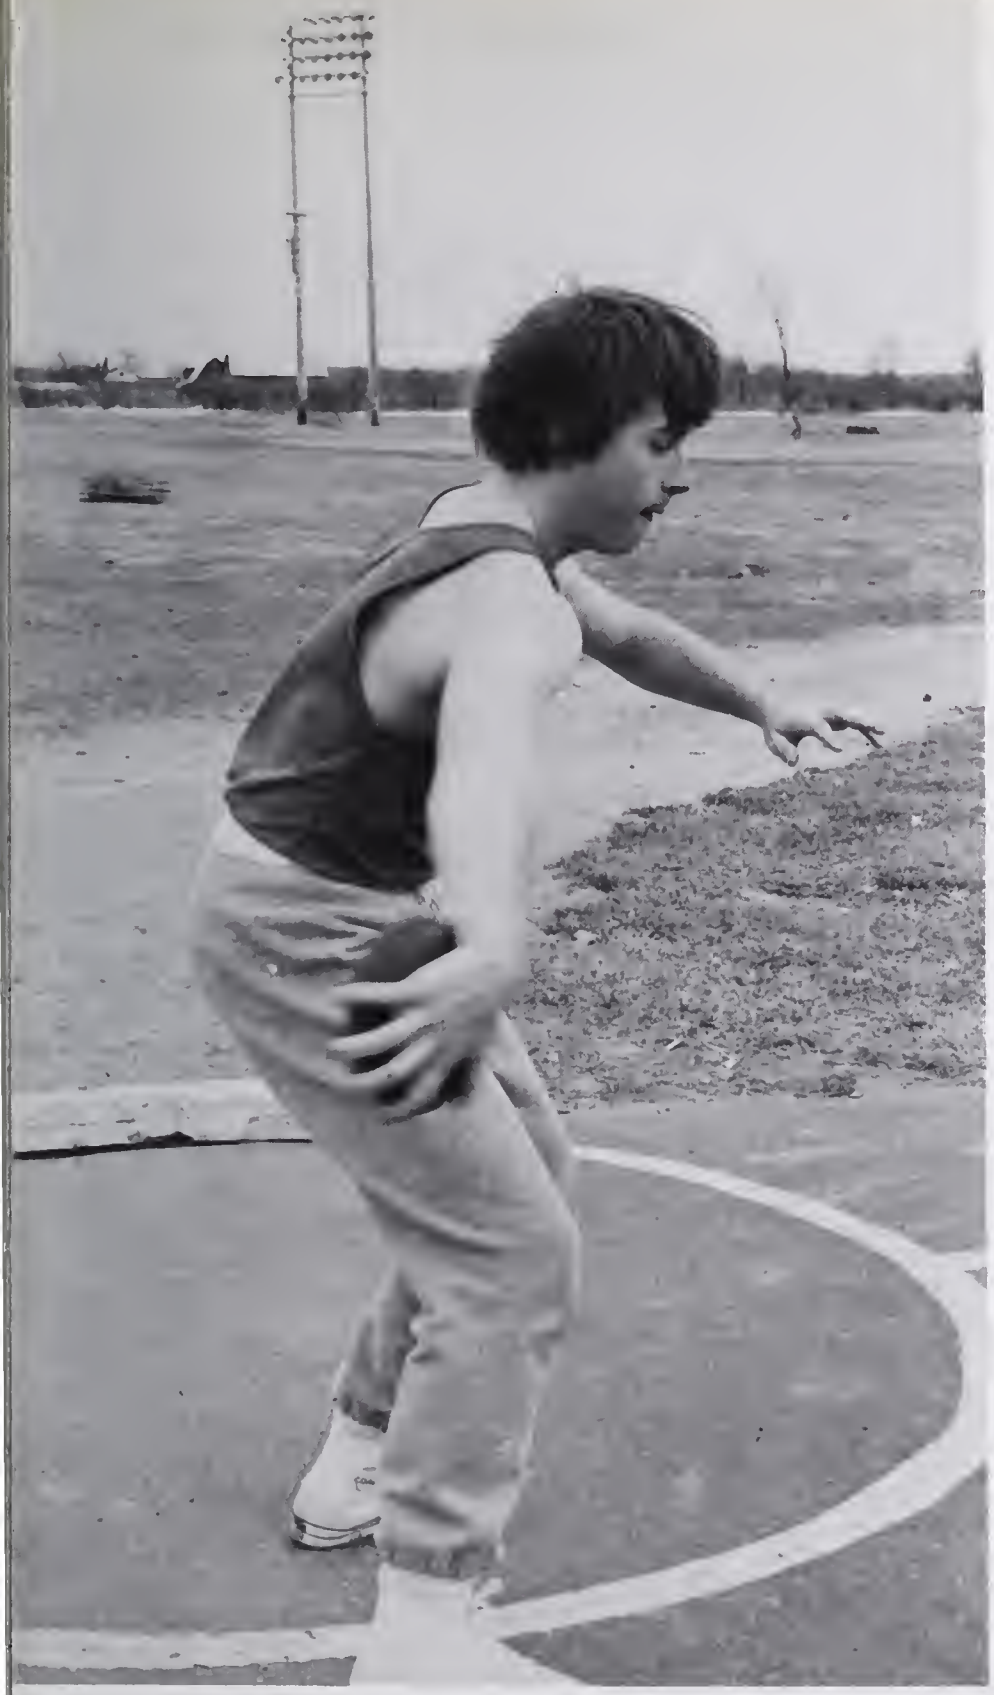

The Junior High teams held an outstanding series of win-loss records throughout the entire year. During football season, the seventh grade held a record of five wins and no losses. They were led by many talented players such as the team's captains, Shane Patterson and Scott Sirk. Coach Harter commented, "The squad improved greatly in fundamentals as the season progressed. The boys played with tremendous desire and enthusiasm, and they knew how to win gracefully." The eighth grade squad had an equally successful season with a record of four wins and one loss. Even though the team was small, they averaged an outstanding 28 points per game. During basketball season, the seventh grade pulled through with an amazing record of eleven wins and one loss. The eighth grade held a record of ten wins and two losses. Coach Henney felt, "This group of boys was one of the most dedicated groups of athletes to pass through the school in a long time." The Track season for the Jr. High showed a season record of eight wins and three losses. Coach Bassett commented that the team has a great deal of talent and leadership. The Jr. High athletes also participated in Cross Country, Gymnastics, and Golf.

New sponsor brings ideas for a good year

During the 1974-75 year, the Student Council kept quite busy with Homecoming, assemblies, Careers Day, dances, Donkey basketball, and elections. The group was led by Tony Senneville until the end of the first semester when he resigned and Bruce Hull, the Vice-president, immediately stepped in and took over the responsibilities of president.

Mrs. Cook, the new sponsor, brought in many new and good ideas for the council. She became involved and accomplished several objectives. Examples of assemblies held this year include the New Prairie Swing Choir and a volleyball demonstration from Kellogg College. A new program, the Donkey basketball game, allowed the faculty to play against the council members while they rode the donkeys.

Although funds were short and costly activities were limited, the Student Council managed to organize an eventful year.

Thespians have bigger and better year

Mrs. Dougherty and the assistance of Mr. Dougherty guided the Thespians for the 1974-75 school year. The club's biggest money making project was the fall play, "The Taming of the Shrew." Other money making activities included the Cabaret which was held in March. The Spring Play, "Our Town," gathered a large audience. These performances activated the club into an eventful year. Other activities of the club included a winter party which was held at the home of Mrs. Dougherty's mother. The annual Initiation ceremony for new members was held again this year in the month of May.

Christmas Prom highlights Hi-Y year

Once again the Hi-Y club members produced a great Christmas prom with a large turnout of people as the big moneymaker. Although the punch didn't last, the band was good.

This year the club added bowling and a swimming party to their list of activities. The annual candy sales also was on the list of activities.

Sponsors of Hi-Y are Mr. Rodman and Mr. Wright.

Pep club unites

For the first time in several years, Pep Club members have united to form a great cheering section. This year the sponsor, Mr. Tokarz, organized and built up the spirit in AHS tremendously.

Also, this year for the first time, the pom-pon corp joined the club. With the gold in their uniforms and the purple in the pep club t-shirts, school colors were in their fullest.

Congratulations, pep club members for a great year of spirit!

Educational spirit

The main purpase af the FEA club (Future Educatars in Actian) is ta give students experience in aspects af teaching. This enables them ta decide if they wauld like ta pursue the teaching prafessian.

A main praject invalving FEA was sending members to elementary schaals every day during a free periad ta help teachers. Mast af the students assisted ot Hendry Pork Schoal since it was within walking distance. The student wos assigned ta work with a porticular teocher ta grade papers, help grode schaal students in the class, and variaus jabs ta acquaint the individuol with teaching. At Christmas time members af the FEA affered their services ta teachers here at the high schaol for a week.

This yeor the SAE (Student Actian far Educatian) title was changed ta the present FEA title. FEA is a state and notianal arganizatian. The reasan for the chonge in the name af the arganizatian was a chonge af spansors. Naw spansaring the arganizatian is the Stote Department af Public Instructian.

Pig roast highlights Varsity Club activities

Varsity Club members are persons who have lettered in some sport. The club's name was changed from Lettermen's Club to Varsity Club because of the addition of girls who lettered in sports. This year's activities included a pig roast, the Athletic banquet, and a picnic. The "Most Outstanding Senior Award" went to B. J. Hancock and Ron Wenzel.

A yearbook remembers

This year the Yearbook Staff was lead by co-editors Carol Karst and Karen Van Wagner. The staff was contracted to a new company in which they were faced with the problem of changing many of their old techniques. Some of these techniques included copy writing, picture cropping, deadlines and many others. This created problems for both old and new members. At the end of the first semester the staff lost their photographer Dave Martin, but he soon became replaced by Rick Rigdon who showed a keen desire to learn photography.

Miss Mary Jane Kruse, the new sponsor of the staff, who came from Fremont High School, had much experience with journalism and assisted the group with her ideas and guidance.

The Yearbook staff accomplished an exceptionally good job selling ads. This success enabled them to include a variety of special effects throughout the 1975 Key.

THE HORNET STAFF

This year the Hornet staff had a great year. Under the new sponsorship of Miss Mary Jane Kruse, the experienced staff produced nine big issues. The biggest issue ever published was twenty-four pages in length and was sold in the month of November.

Money collected from the sale of newspapers helps to finance a trip to a journalism workshop at Ball State University for a few Hornet staff members. The workshop lasted for one week and the students lived on campus. Last summer those attending were Annette Barton, Rick Rigdon, Barb Stoy, and Andrea Pastor.

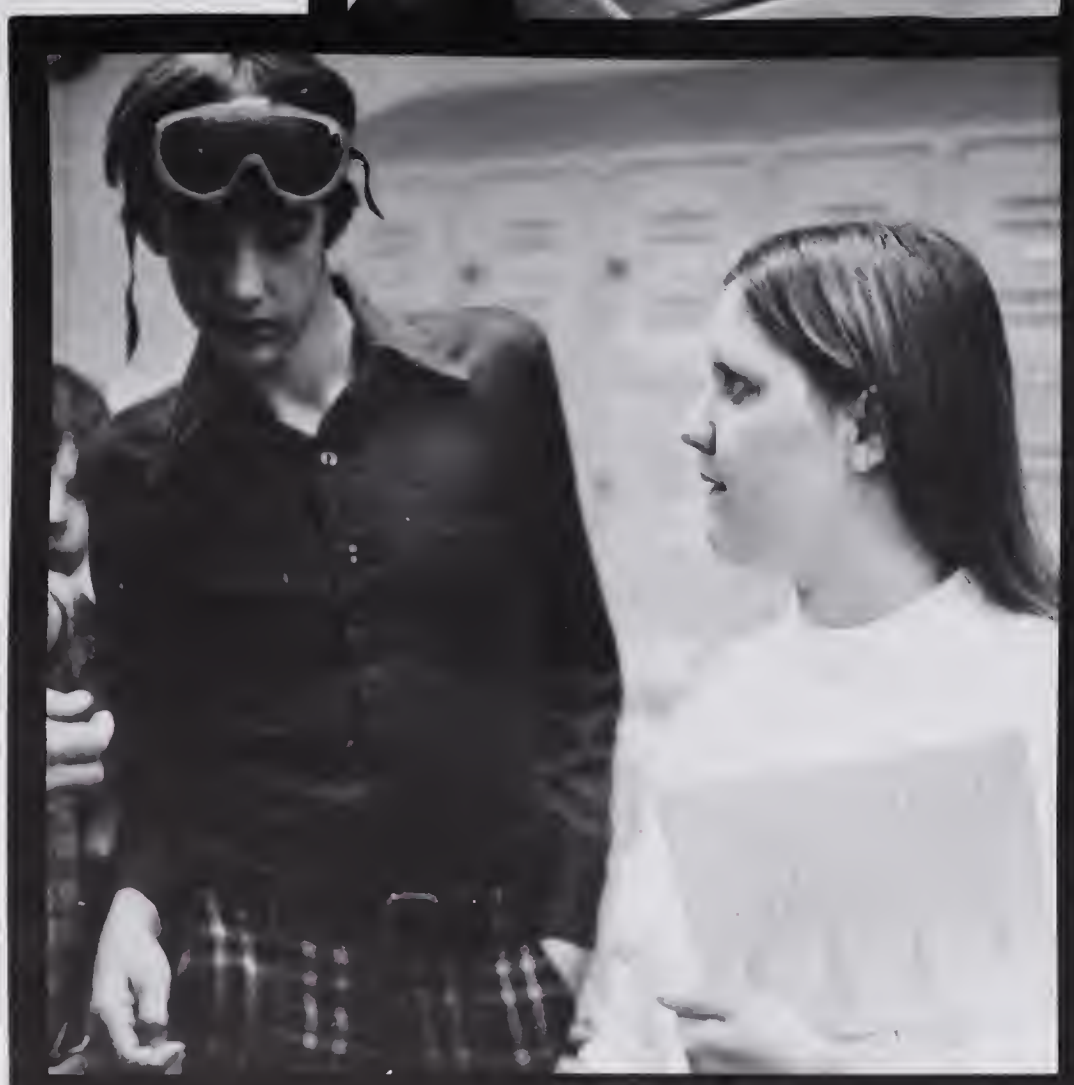

A unique situation developed this year in the position of editor of the newspaper. Two people, Debbie Coney and Rick Rigdon, were selected to act as co-editors. But because of their differing ideas and policies, it was resolved that Debbie Coney should assume the position of editor for the first semester, and Rick Rigdon should hold the editorship for the second semester.

QUILL AND SCROLL

What is the Quill and Scroll? Who belongs to it? What do they do?

The Quill and Scroll is an honor society for high school journalists. Those eligible for membership must participate on the yearbook, newspaper or magazine staff, maintain a B average, and show outstanding work in their area. The Quill and Scroll is simply an honorary society, and its only activity is an annual initiation of new members.

This year seven new members were initiated on March 25, 1975. Each new member received a one year subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine published monthly. Another stipulation for membership was added this year. Members were required to be a part of yearbook or newspaper class for two full semesters. For this reason, no members of the Odyssey staff were initiated.

THE ODYSSEY

The Odyssey, a magazine published annually, contains art and literature submitted by students from Angola High School. This year the magazine was edited by one of Mr. Dougherty's advanced freshman English classes. Seventeen different high school students in grades 9-12 had their works published in the magazine.

The five members of the staff, Ed Bendezu, Chris Brainard, Meg Dipert, Marcella Lansford, and Andrea Mason, read endless stories and poems before choosing the final selections. Their next major job was to type the entire fifty pages of the magazine. Then Cindy Wilcox and Susan Johnson assumed the task of duplicating 200 copies. The magazine went on sale May 19 at ten cents per copy.

COE and ICE-ICT develop leadership

During the 1974-75 school year, two of the Co-op clubs, COE and ICE-ICT, endeavored to train students to conduct business meetings, organize sales campaigns, and prepare speeches. The clubs met third period to set up such activities as selling candy apples and Halloween clean-up insurance, washing buses, and planning an Employer Appreciation Banquet. The clubs also were engaged in many skill contests.

FFA — active in third year

The 1974-75 year saw the future farmers make agricultural breakthroughs under the leadership of Pres. Tom Simons and sponsor, Mr. Walker. The club harvested an eighteen acre bean crop. They also picked a substantial apple crop on their orchard. And they enjoyed recreation at Angola Bowl. The Greenhand initiation introduced nineteen new members, bringing club roll to forty-three.

Students to the rescue . . .

This year practically every teacher had at leost ane student ossistant at his aid during the day. A few teachers were blessed with one or mare helpers every hour.

Student assistant work ranged fram grading papers and bandaging waunds to helping with class prajects and rearranging bookshelves. Through being assistants, students learn many voluoble assets in vorious fields. Sametimes the assisting becames hard wark, but in the end it's enjayable and worthwhile. As an example ane student assistant said, "It's fun being an assistant, and I enjoy tolking ta the teacher I help."

New clubs incite enthusiasm . . .

Chess Club and art club were new clubs this yeor. Art club was re-enacted this year with Mr. Neil Robinsan and Mrs. Deardarff as the spansors. There were two main prajects this year. In Navember when the bazoar was canducted ot the Natianal Guard Armory, the art club hod a baath which was spansored by a Tri-Stote sararity. Mr. Rabinsan and members af the club warked an projects in the baath, such as macramé items. The art club gained a lat af valuable experience thraugh warking in the baath. Praceeds made went ta defray the cost af field trips and ta buy art club equipment and materiols. Art work was displayed in downtawn stares for the public ta view during the spring, which made up the other main praject. During the winter months the art club met an Monday and Thursday ta prepare for their downtawn displays. All in all, the art club had a prosperaus year and leorned mony new ideas which will prave invaluable ta them in years to came.

Chess club met bright and early every Monday during Activity Periad. Mr. Kearney served as spansar, ond Karl Smith was the presiding afficer.

The chess activity ond strotegic maves evalved araund the science sinks and spigats. Occosianally o chess club member was seen tating around a portable chess baard and engaging innacent victims in a game of chess. Next yeor hopefully will prove ta be an even mare exciting yeor far chess club.

Make your own kind of music

The AHS choir made its own kind of music throughout the year at various concerts. The choir gave a colorful performance at the Spring Concert and the Christmas Concert. Also, the choir, under the direction of Miss Nancy Siebold, did a wonderful job at the Band and Choir Concert.

Swingals delight crowds

Swingals were unable to do much swinging or singing because of the lack of performances. Miss Siebold remarked that the girls were more ready than any other year, but they just hadn't been asked to sing. The girls performed for the Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, and the Women's Shrine. Although there were only these three performances, the girls put on good shows.

Tri-State performance highlights orchestra activities

Under the direction of an elementary vocal teacher Mr. Unger, the orchestra members greatly increased their musical ability this year. One opportunity to show off their talents was when they played for the Tri-State commencement in December. Although they held very few performances this year, the orchestra hopes to have a bigger and better year for 1975-76.

Where is the Love?

The Hornet Marching Band experienced another successful year. On the fall contest scene they traveled to the Ohio State Contest where, after its first appearance, they placed third. The annual NISBOVA contest was held at Lewis Cass High School. Here the Hornets claimed first place and earned their way to the state contest where they finished second. "Where is the Love?" titled their contest show.

The Band Department added a new face to their staff this year, Mr. Larry Brandt. Mr. Brandt, a former teacher at Garrett High School, directed the Jr. High Band and assisted Mr. Frisinger.

Due to an expected increase in the size of the band next year, more uniforms needed to be purchased. By selling magazines, $2000 was earned for this cause.

Pom pon girls steal Zionsville Sweepstakes

The 1974-75 Pom Pon Corps again won the attention and admiration of their audiences. The girls were directed this year by Mrs. Donna Frisinger and Head Majorette, Karen Rose. Assistants were Pam Strang, Holly Lonsbury, Sharon Headley, and Debbie McKnight. Other offices held included: Chaplain, Cindy Cummings; Suggestion Chairman, Jan Simons; Sunshine Girl, Joni Crimmins, and Equipment Managers, Rita Bobay and Susan Randolph. As in the past, they marched with the Band and performed during the basketball season. For each home basketball game they did the pre-game or flag ceremony and did different routines during halftime. The climax of their long and tedious practices was reached when they traveled to the annual Zionsville Contest on April 12. Their Walt Disney routine won the mouseketeers a first place rating in Class A with a score of 150 points out of a possible 160 points. The performance that won the praise and compliments of all the judges consisted of a Mickey Mouse routine, jump rope routine, and a parachute routine.

Clockwise storting ot right: Sally Sheorer snaps to the rhythm of "Call on Me." The 1974-75 Pom Pon Squad. Karen Rose and Pam Strang proudly carry the first place trophies. The Pom Pon girls execute a cowgirl routine.

Pep Band rated first in state

The familiar sounds of the Pep Band were again heard and appreciated at basketball games and other activities. Mr. Frisinger directed the 28 man band. Their schedule included playing for all high school home basketball games and many of the home Tri-State games. On April 12, they traveled to Zionsville with the Pom Pon Corps and also returned home with superior first place ratings and a Sweepstakes award. Two trophies were given in recognition of their outstanding music performance.

The 1975 KEY was printed on matte enamel finish paper by TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY, DALLAS, TEXAS. Headline type for division pages was 36 point Optima Bold, for opening and closing sections 18 point Optima Bold, and for all other pages 24 point Optima Bold. Body copy was printed in 10 point Times Roman, and cutline copy was printed in 8 point Times Roman. The poem on the cover was written by an anonymous author. The cover was taken from a poster purchased form Vargus Communications.

"I would be true;
for there are those who trust me.

I would be strong;
for there is much to suffer.

I would look up — and laugh — and love — and lift."

Howard Arnold Walter

SECTION

"Accept me as I am — Only then will we discover each other."

Federico Fellini

Acknowledgements

The 1975 KEY staff wishes to thank the following people for their help in making this yearbook a success: Steuben Republican and Coleen Anspaugh for the tremendous contribution of pictures and other assistance; Gentry Photographic for helping with the yearbook cover; Clark's Studio for sending us senior glossies; Jamie Donigan for the use of his camera; Diane Swager for her award-winning photography on page 9; Ray Geyer from National School Studios; Jim Bell from Taylor Publishing Company; and to the people and businessmen of the community who purchased ads and enabled us to publish another yearbook.

What can we say about this year?
This year, being our final year at AHS, had many unforgettable memories.
We could go on for pages and pages to relive all the depressing, happy, confusing, aggravating, and amusing things that happened to us in the last four years.
But the past is over and we must live each day with hopes of making more true friends and memories.
We really hope that we have created a yearbook which will help our friends relive and share some of the same experiences we had.
We discovered the problems in putting together a book, but it was worth it.
The time to say good-bye is a happy time and a sad time.
We can't forget the people at AHS who touched our lives, and we hope they never forget us.
